YES

Declare your personal interest in the matter. You can remain in meeting, speak and vote unless the interest is also prejudicial; or
If your interest arises solely from your membership of, or position of control or management on any other public body or body to which you were nominated by the authority e.g. Governing Body, ALMO, you only need declare your personal interest if and when you speak on the matter, again providing it is not prejudicial.

Prejudicial interest

You may have a prejudicial interest

YES

Does the matter affect your financial position or the financial position of any person or body through whom you have a personal interest?
Does the matter relate to an approval, consent, license, permission or registration that affects you or any person or body with which you have a personal interest?
Would a member of the public (knowing the relevant facts) reasonably think that your personal interest was so significant that it would prejudice your judgement of public interest?

Do the public have speaking rights at the meeting?

You should declare the interest but can remain in the meeting to speak. Once you have finished speaking (or the meeting decides you have finished - if earlier) you must withdraw from the meeting by leaving the room.
