Dear Sir

I have just read an application from 235 Winkmore Hill Rd for an extension of hours for Sat/ Mid night from 11PM till Midnight with live music, with promises there would be no one in the garden after 10PM (yet he is just had a lot more seats put in the garden for his customers) and all customers would be over 28 years old.

We have been through this nightmare before and with the same promises (but it didn't happen)

Between 11:01 and 12:01 AM we had a lot of shouting and swearing. They were using the road as a toilet, stinking the place out. We had to call the police to get rid of them.

This is a residential area and we live about 20ft from the pub. my neighbours each have babies. By law we are entitled to quiet after 11 PM, so after this time I will be calling the police. if there is any noise

Please find enclosed a copy the local paper. 21-9-11 when the previous owners were turned down extensions

The judge did state as it was a residential area he should not have been given a extension in the first place.

Post.

Yours Sincerely
R. Peck

Opening hours cut as pub loses licence re

By Lee Husson

A WINCHMORE HILL pub has lost a fight to keep its late licence after magistrates upheld the council's decision to scale back its opening times.

From now on, Willow, in Winchmore Hill Road, will be forced to close its doors at 11pm on Friday and Saturday nights after residents complained about loud music from the bar and noise from customers leaving, including shouting, screaming, and car horns.

The case was originally brought before Enfield Council in a review of Willow's licence in September last year after residents complained about revellers leaving the bar and restaurant at its 12.30am closing time. The review set new conditions for licensees Phidias and Simis Kouttis to move the closing time back to 11pm over the weekend.

They appealed against the decision, but their case was dismissed at Enfield Magistrates' Court.

Agreeing with the council's licensing committee's decision, judge Tim Daber said: "The local authority has demonstrated itself to

Noisy neighbour: Complaints were made about patrons of Willow, in have taken a proportionate response. It may be that limiting the hours will not abate the problems completely, but it will bring dispersal problems forward to a time before many residents have retired to bed.

"Residents have for a long time been used to having a public house in the area, but not a late-night entertainment venue. I am unable to say that the licensing authority was wrong. Indeed, while I am not required to go this far, it seems to me on the evidence I have heard that it was right."

The judge also awarded the council £21,000 in costs.
