Healthy London Partnership Update

Below are an update from Healthy London partnership.

Health and care leaders work together to implement devolution: The signing of the London Health and Care Devolution Memorandum of Understanding by London and national partners and central government marked a significant milestone for the future of health and care. In December, London's health and care leaders met to discuss what it means for London. The event was the first step in on-going engagement to co-design London's future health and care with system leaders across the capital ...Find out more

Thrive LDN reaches 15.5 million people: Early findings are available from Thrive LDN's 'Are we OK London?' campaign. It launched in July last year as an open conversation with Londoners about mental health and wellbeing. The report has an overview of the engagement so far and feedback from Londoners to inform the next stages of community outreach. It sets out the most frequent themes and ideas shared by Londoners; feedback from those who took part in 17 problem solving booths held over the summer; and Talk London online discussions held on London.gov.uk ...Find out more

Good thinking London! Londoners experiencing sleep difficulties, anxiety, low mood and stress can now use 'Good Thinking' the digital wellbeing service in its testing phase. Two million Londoners will experience mental ill health this year but 75% of Londoners with depression and anxiety get no treatment at all. Good Thinking uses social listening and marketing to direct Londoners who self-identify as having issues around sleep, anxiety, low mood and stress to personalised digital support such as clinically endorsed apps ...Find out more

London on fast track to reduce HIV: Last week the Mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, with borough leaders, Public Health England and NHS England signed the 'Paris Declaration on Fast-Track Cities Ending the AIDS Epidemic'. We will be leading partners to deliver London's fast-track city commitments to cut rates of new HIV infection and eliminate associated discrimination and stigma. London has made great strides towards achieving the primary United Nations targets for the initiative but there is plenty more to do ...Find out more.

What do Londoners think of their cancer care? Our Transforming Cancer Services Team has published analysis of the 2016 National Cancer Patient Experience Survey results for each London CCG and STP to support commissioners and clinical leaders in improving cancer care for patients. The team analysed each CCG's results against 26 of the questions in the national survey. These were selected for the effect a poor score has on a patient's short and long-term health and wellbeing. The analysis and results for each CCG and STP are on an interactive dashboard to support commissioners and clinical leaders in understanding the experiences of people with cancer in their local area ...Find out more

Working with Londoners to make London the healthiest global city Our report on the engagement activities we carried out with Londoners last year is now online. Every day our teams are working with people in communities, online and at events. Londoners from all walks of life, of all ages and all cultures, and across all boroughs are involved in improving London's health and care ...Find out more

Resources for referring patients with a suspected cancer Updated suspected cancer referral forms for patients with a suspected cancer are now on our website for primary care referrers (including GPs, dentists and optometrists). Following feedback by stakeholders in primary and secondary care the referral forms and tumour guides have had generic and specific clinical changes since they originally launched in April 2016. Forms are available to download for Word, EmisWeb, SystemOne (Integrated, Non-integrated), Vision and DXS. Leaflets in 11 languages are also available to support patients who have been referred to hospital with a suspected cancer.
