1 ABOUT

From the creators of Printworks, The Drumsheds is a brand new space for London. The venue combines four giant, interlinked, warehouses with capacities of up to 10,000 inside along with 10 acres of outdoor space. Located in Meridian Water, next to Tottenham Marshes and Tottenham Ikea, the site is easily accessible from across the city.

Historically, the site operated as a gasworks between the 1930s and 1970s and has remained unused until now. This unique venue will now embrace a new lease of life, in which the former gasworks and outdoor space will be revived as a ground-breaking and multi-purpose event space suitable for large scale indoor music and cultural events along with the 10-acre outdoor space that its suitable for large music festivals.

The Drumsheds will be hosting its first event with Field Day taking over on June 7-8, 2019. Field Day will see the likes of Skepta, Jorja Smith, Diplo, Jungle, Pusha-T, Bonobo (dj set), Octavian, Death Grips, Earl Sweatshirt, The Black Madonna, Deerhunter, HOMESHAKE, Mahalia, Seth Troxler, Femi Kuti, Julia Holter and many more play across the 2 days utilising both the warehouses and outdoor spaces.
