Dear Mr Palmer,

Thank you for your email.

It has been brought to my attention that there have been some alterations to the front of the premises recently.

I have attached a copy of the current plan which is attached to the licence. As the plan forms part of the licence it must legally be accurate. Please speak to your client and ask him to mark on the plan any alterations that have been made so that I can see if the plan needs to be updated and if so whether this can be done via a minor variation application or whether a full variation application is required.

I have also attached guidance notes showing what needs to be shown on a plan.

Many Thanks

Dear Ms Palmer

Thank you so much for returning my call earlier on in the day and thank you for your constructive discussion as well.

I look forward to hearing from your colleague, the case officer, in relation to any further representations which may be issued by yourselves, following the service of the Notice.

I am discussing with my client fully, the matters which were explored in the course of our conversation and I hope to revert to you with our proposals/suggestions as to how these rather unfortunate incidences can best be addressed to the mutual satisfaction and the benefit of all concerned.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely
JOHN PALMER
