

Enfield Equality Impact Assessment (EqIA)

Introduction

The purpose of an Equality Impact Assessment (EqIA) is to help Enfield Council make sure it does not discriminate against service users, residents and staff, and that we promote equality where possible. Completing the assessment is a way to make sure everyone involved in a decision or activity thinks carefully about the likely impact of their work and that we take appropriate action in response to this analysis.

The EqIA provides a way to systematically assess and record the likely equality impact of an activity, policy, strategy, budget change or any other decision.

The assessment helps us to focus on the impact on people who share one of the different nine protected characteristics as defined by the Equality Act 2010 as well as on people who are disadvantaged due to socio-economic factors. The assessment involves anticipating the consequences of the activity or decision on different groups of people and making sure that:

- unlawful discrimination is eliminated
- opportunities for advancing equal opportunities are maximised
- opportunities for fostering good relations are maximised.

The EqIA is carried out by completing this form. To complete it you will need to:

- use local or national research which relates to how the activity/ policy/ strategy/ budget change or decision being made may impact on different people in different ways based on their protected characteristic or socio-economic status;
- where possible, analyse any equality data we have on the people in Enfield who will be affected eg equality data on service users and/or equality data on the Enfield population;
- refer to the engagement and/ or consultation you have carried out with stakeholders, including the community and/or voluntary and community sector groups you consulted and their views. Consider what this engagement showed us about the likely impact of the activity/ policy/ strategy/ budget change or decision on different groups.

The results of the EqIA should be used to inform the proposal/ recommended decision and changes should be made to the proposal/ recommended decision as a result of the assessment where required. Any ongoing/ future mitigating actions required should be set out in the action plan at the end of the assessment.

Section 2 – Summary of proposal

Please give a brief summary of the proposed service change / policy/ strategy/ budget change/project plan/ key decision

Please summarise briefly:

What is the proposed decision or change?

What are the reasons for the decision or change?

What outcomes are you hoping to achieve from this change?

Who will be impacted by the project or change - staff, service users, or the wider community?

Background information;

The Alma Estate is located in the Ponders End ward. The regeneration of the Alma estate includes a total of 717 residential units (547 Council tenanted & 170 leasehold) as well as, 866sqm of commercial/retail space and 1540 sqm of community facilities (Youth Centre, Welcome Point community hall etc.)

The appointed developer is Countryside Partnerships (UK) will deliver. The regeneration will deliver 993 residential units (200 units for social rent (SR) with LBE, 201 for shared ownership (SO) with Newlon Housing Trust & 529 units for private sale (PS) with Countryside). In addition to this, Countryside will provide shell and core of the following: a restaurant/café, two-storey gym, community centre, retail space, youth centre, medical centre, energy centre with a new heat network providing heat to the entire estate, relocation of telecommunications equipment and open space covering play areas, landscaping, highway works, public realm, car park in phase 1 etc.

In Phase 2a and 4 the reserved matters application was submitted November 2019 (and section 73 to amend the outline parameter plans). Following the approval of the application, the number of homes to be delivered would increase to 1086.

Following the start of construction in November 2017, 310 homes have now been completed, with the first residents having moved in to their new homes in 2019.

The new community centre is currently being constructed to shell and core, which means the Council is responsible for the works to fit out the building. The key decision 5560 seeks authority to appoint Countryside Partnerships (UK) as the developer to carry out the fit out works of the new Alma Community Centre.

The new community centre will be a HRA Council owned asset and will be accessible to all residents within the Ponders End ward, as well as across the Borough.

Section 3 – Equality analysis

This section asks you to consider the potential differential impact of the proposed decision or change on different protected characteristics, and what mitigating actions should be taken to avoid or counteract any negative impact.

According to the Equality Act 2010, protected characteristics are aspects of a person's identity that make them who they are. The law defines 9 protected characteristics:

1. Age
2. Disability
3. Gender reassignment.
4. Marriage and civil partnership.
5. Pregnancy and maternity.
6. Race
7. Religion or belief.
8. Sex
9. Sexual orientation.

At Enfield Council, we also consider socio-economic status as an additional characteristic.

“Differential impact” means that people of a particular protected characteristic (eg people of a particular age, people with a disability, people of a particular gender, or people from a particular race and religion) will be significantly more affected by the change than other groups. Please consider both potential positive and negative impacts, and provide evidence to explain why this group might be particularly affected. If there is no differential impact for that group, briefly explain why this is not applicable.

Please consider how the proposed change will affect staff, service users or members of the wider community who share one of the following protected characteristics.
